CITY COUNCIL.

The regular meeting of the City Council was held last night. BOARD OF ALDERMEN. This Board met at 7.40 o'clock, with all of the members present.

On the call of the committees, Mr. Armstrong reported that he had called the Committee on Public Property together three times without getting a quorum. He hoped, however, to have one to night, when the Sun Engine House matter would be taken

Mr. Armstrong presented a bill to extend, until May, the time for allowing a discount on tax bills, paid in money. Mr. O'Neal moved to adopt the bill. Mr. Smoot thought it had better go to the Committee on Finance. Mr. Armstrong said his only object was to encourage the payment of taxes in money instead of coupons. If no discount were allowed for cash, all overdue bills would be paid in

Col. Reid thought it best not to net hastily and seconded the motion to refer to the Finance Committee. Mr. Armstrong thought the matter a very simple one, and no reference necessary. Col. Reid thought the reference more strictly according to rule and parliamentary practice. The bill was referred. Mr. Strauss called attention to the fact that nothing had been done toward abating the nuisance caused by the sunken lots on Princess and Royal streets. Council had made the appropriation and the work ought to be attended

Mr. Armstrong said that he had seen the loads of dirt, without the Surveyor, at a east of $2 per day, he was not worthy of his office. Every little mud hole which was tilled up had | go by. to be surveyed and it was entirely unnecessary.

Mr. Smoot said that the Surveyor had been sent there to fix the grade so that a large portion of the earth required could be taken from Royal street. He thought that a free use of spade and shovel would have remedied the nuisance long ago, by making a few ditches. He had seen large marshes drained in that way.

Mr. Strauss had no objection to the survey ing; he on'y wanted the work attended to as Mr. Armstrong reiterated his objection to unnecessary expense. The matter was allowed to drop, without further action.

A communication from E. S. Leadbeater. Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, relative to the Sun engine house, was received from the Common Council. Mr. Armstrong said that the committee could not get ready a report by Friday night. He thought that the building was now paying all that it could be made to pay. He wanted to do justice to all parties, and did not think it well to act too hastily. He recounted the claims of the Suu Fire Company and was proceeding at length when he was called to order by Mr. O'Neal and took his seat.

Mr. Downham moved to fix the time for the report of the committee, at the next meeting of Council.

night. Mr. Armstrong-Well, I will call the committee together at nine o'clock to morrow morning.

Mr. Strauss-All right, I will be there. Mr. Downham's amendment was adopted. The Board then went into joint convention on the report of the Committee on Rules, and upon their return, at 10 o'clock, adjourned.

The Common Council held its usual semi monthly meeting last night. The attendance within the bar was very good, and about one third of the seats outside the bar were occuwied.

A communication was read from Edward S. Leadbeater, Chief Engineer of the Fire Da -partment, calling attention to a former com munication with reference to the occupation of the Sua engine house as a place of business. He understood that the Committee on Public Property was about to take action on the subject, but Mr. Latham had not found it convenient to be present, and on his suggestion the meeting had been postponed until to-morrow night. He felt it his duty to urge prompt action in this matter that this poor city might receive a revenue from this building.

During the reading of this paper Mr. Evans said: -Mr. President, I object to the reading of that paper. It is not respectful to the City

Conneil. The President-I do not think so. I do not see how the communication is disrespectful. Mr. Evans-He does not allow the City Council to do its business in its own way.

The President-I rule that the reading is in order. Mr. Evans-Well, sir, go ahead with the reading.

Mr. Falls moved that the communication be referred to the Committee on Public Property with instructions to report to Council at a speeial meeting of the City Council to be held on

Mr. Adams-I object to that Mr. President. I have always had the most implicit confidence in Mr. Latham. He came here at the last meeting although he was sick and the doctor told him not to come out. He (Mr. Adams) wanted the matter settled to-night, and not to go to a new committee.

The President-You don't seem to understand the situation.

Mr. Adams-What sir?

The President-You don't seem to understand the circumstances. This is not a new

Mr. Latham said :- Mr. President, I have been astounded many times in my life at impudence and presumption, but never have I been so astounded as now. As Mr. Evans has already said, the communication is an insult to the Council. Why should Casar appear before the Council and take it upon himself to rebuke its action, and forsooth he can't wait? and we have a motion that it be referred to the Committee on Public Property, to report on Friday hight | with sarcastic emphasis |.

Mr. Falls.-They are my words, sir. Mr. L .-- He wants us to hurry, He knew that a meeting was to be held to morrow night, but C:e ar can't wait until to morrow night. (Mr. Leadbeater here came in and took a seat outside the bar.) I am glad the gentleman has entered the chamber. Nothing of that kind can deter me from expressing my honest convictions. This committee have seen fit to take certain action, and they have been rebuked by Casar. They selected the night of meeting. Mr. Rishiell.-The chairman of the committee did.

Mr. Latham.—The guardian of the city sent him to me to see if the meeting could not be hald lest risks. When this hard? Are the held last night. Why this haste? Are the gentlemen afraid to trust us a week or two longer, so that they may rust the hand engines out? Will the committee swallow the dietates of a master that would be? I will see how this day. much independence there is in the Committee | nov 8 on Public Property. The meeting is fixed for Friday night. Friday night is a night that I BEANS, and a fresh invoice of Pennsylvacannot attend, but it is desired, perhaps, that I should not be present. I don't fear this with honorable men; don't fear the result for an in stant. I move to lay on the table, or rather I move to strike out all that relates to a special P. J. DAVIDSON, move to strike out all that relates to a special meeting on Friday night.

Mr. Falls .- When I offered the resolution I didn't know that Mr. Latham could not attend. Mr. Latham. - I am satisfied you did not, sir. Pieces received to day. The motion to strike out was lost-ayes 6, next regular meeting, and Council consurred. The Aldermen were then invited into the Council chamber to consider the joint rules. JOINT MEETING.

When the Boards convened in joint session, Mr. Latham, from the Committee on Rules, reported the new rules of Council. The rules are changed little, but are ar ranged somewhat differently in form. Whe the rule in relation to the Committee on Public Schools was read. Mr. Evans desired to know what that Committee could do, and what was the use of it. In Lynchburg the School Committee of the City Council did have something to do with the schools, but here they could not get into the schools if the School Board choose to refuse them admission.

Mr. Latham thought that the Committee might serve a good purpose and should be retained. He paid a high compliment to the Alexandria schools and their management. Mr. Beach said all members of Council who visited the schools would be welcomed. When the clause providing that elections by the Board should by be by viva voce or open vote was read, Mr. Strauss urged that the clause should not be adopted; members did not always wish to vote publicly. Mr. Evans announced that the Constitution of the State said that all elections should be by Mr. Latham had always been in favor of votiog viva voce. It was the old time method of voting, and it would soon be the new time and the earth gives way without any warning method. He was not afraid to vote openly. He wished his constituents to know how he discharged his duty and for whom he voted. It this had always been the rule the poor, weak, while will again be speeding on their way.' City Surveyor out there, making surveys. If fail shoulders of his would have escaped the the Superintendent could not dump in a few charge of defeating everybody that ever was de feated in this Council. If the gentlemen can't come up to this, they will have to give it the

Mr. Reid would be delighted to have the whole system changed, and viva voce voting adopted throughout the State, but in the face of the provision of the State Constitution he was ine ined to pause and have the matter referred to in the market building. He had been twice the Corporation Attorney.

Mr. Latham opposed delay. The motion of Mr. Strauss was agreed to.

Mr. Latham asked if the joint convention was now ready to go on with the election of a Dispenser of Medicine. Some discussion occurred on the subject.

Mr. Armstrong urged that as Jauney & Co's. bid was the lowest at the recent bidding they were entitled to be elected.

Mr. Adams said he was a law man, but he supposed that as Mr. Armstrong was a veteran he knew the law. He thought that the joint convention had the power to elect a Dispenser. The President-There is no question of that kind before the convention. Mr. Adams-1 move that we elect a Dispen

LANDSLIDE ON THE CANAL. - The Cumber land Alleganian gives the following particulars of the accident at the canal tunnel, which was briefly mentioned yesterday. It says:

"Yesterday morning, about 3 o'clock, a landslide occurred on the canal at the Three Looks, one hundred yards east of the tunnel, breaking two flumes and two lock gates, and so damaging the canal as to delay the passage of boats for a considerable length of time. The tunnel is about 30 miles from this city. Nearly all the light boats on the canal are between the place of the accident and Georgetown, leaving about sixty boats this side of the tunnel. Judging from the average number of hoats that leave daily, those now in port can be loaded in two days. As it will take the remainder of the week to repair the damage, only the few boats that passed the tunnel previous to the accident will arrive in port before next Tuesday. This accident keeps not only the men at the wharves comparatively idle, but also those men who have been engaged in hauling coal from the mines to this city. The accident, however, is one that could not possibly have been avoided. No one can tell the effect produced by a heavy shower until somewhile after its occurrence, whatever. We may rest assured, however, that the evil will be remedied as speedily as possible, and the boats in a comparatively shert

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.-Mr. John J. Walsh, one of the oldest residents of this city, died at the residence of his daughter, on St. Asaph street, this morning. Mr. Walsh was about seventy-eight years of age, and had been in bad health for some time past. He held the office of messenger of the Common Council at one time, and latterly that of steward of offices married, and his second wife survives him, together with a number of children. Among his children by his first wife was Capt. James F. Walsh, formerly captain of the night watch. The deceased was a consistent member of St. Mary's Church, and enjoyed the confidence and respect of all who knew him.

PERSONAL .-- Col. T. W. Ashby, of this city. is a candidate for the office of Doorkeeper of the Virginia House of Delegates. The Colonel was postmaster of Alexandria at the commencement of the war, but went South and shared the fate of the Confederacy. If he should be elected the House will have a courteous, gentlemanly and accommodating officer.

Messrs. Frank G. Addison and Griffith B. Joleman of this city, who have been located at Dallas, Texas, arrived home this morning on a visit to their relatives and friends. Mr. Addison is just recovering from a severe attack of typhoid pneumonia.

M. E. CHURCH.-On Monday night the services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Webb, who preached from Ezzkiel xxxiii, read a long written speech upon the subject. But he that taketh warning shall deliver his soul." Rev. W. Dinwiddie delivered an impressive address. At the after meeting six persons went forward for prayers. Last night the services were again conducted by the pas-

RIPARIAN SUITS,-The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says that the river front suits, in which the Potomac Steamboat Company, the Inland and Seaboard Navigation Company, and the Upper Potomac Steamboat Company, allowning riparian rights along the river front, south of Tenth street, are concerned, and which involve questions of the ownership of wharf rights, &c., of considerable interest, have been all postponed until next April, by which time it is expected that all the evidence that can be gathered on the subject will be ready for presentation to the chancellor.

THE MARKET BUILDING.-In accordance with a resolution of the City Council, all of the doors and windows about the market building, both above and below, have been overhauled, repaired and re hung. The work has been done in a most workmanlike and handsome manner by Messrs. T. E. Kemp and W. Dunlap Stewart. Not the least among the improvements made is the substitution of a neat handle for the very inconvenient knob at the Royal street entrance, which has heretofore skinned he knuckles of all who attempted to open

Police ITEMs.—Only two cases have been eported since yesterday :

John H. Burgess, for being drunk on the street, was fined and discharged.

Paul Fitzsimmons, who hails from Baltimore, for being drunk at the station house, was discharged with a reprimand, on promising to quit the city at once.

Wm. G. Homer, steward of a vessel at the shippard, made complaint to Justice Padgett that the mate of his vessel had assaulted him. Upon investigating the case, however, it was found that Homer was the assailant, and he was made to pay two dollars and costs.

A NEW FUEL .- Justice Joseph Padgett has been making some experiments at his office in the utilization of ashes, and has succeeded beyond his expectations. He finds that by making up small balls of coal ashes with water, and putting them on a coal fire, they burn as well and throw out nearly as much heat as the coal itself. The Justice had a fire made from this fuel, in his office, this morning, and it was viewed with interest by many citizens, including the Gazette's reporter.
